REFRESHING THE NATIONAL RESEARCH PRIORITIES 2012 - SUBMISSION TEMPLATE

1. Does the proposed wording of the new Enhancing Society, Culture and Communities NRP and its associated priority goals provide an opportunity for researchers within the humanities, arts and social sciences to contribute to Australia's research priorities?
Your response:	Rationale:
(i) Yes.	(i) CAMD welcomes the inclusion of the new NRP and the recognition it accords the research contribution of the humanities, arts and social sciences.
(ii) CAMD would suggest however that the word 'values' would be more appropriate than 'celebrates' in the opening sentence.	(ii) The use of 'values' suggests a more reflective and critical approach to 'culture, knowledge, inclusion, wellbeing and active citizenship'.
2. Do you consider that those suggested adequately cover the areas of national priority of particular importance to the HASS disciplines? Please provide specific example of any alternate goals and the context to explain your comments or suggestions.
Your response:	Rationale:
(i) Yes, with the following suggested amendments:	(i) The suggested priority goals appear to cover an appropriately wide range of HASS specialist disciplines.
(ii) The wording under 'Fostering a creative and imaginative Australia' would be clearer if reference was made to 'culture' instead of 'art' or 'art and culture' or if 'cultural industries' was amended to read 'cultural activities'.	(ii) The intent is to ensure that the role of culture (which is much broader than arts alone) is acknowledged in fostering a creative and imaginative Australia.
(iii) Some thought might be given to the order of the	The term 'cultural industries' is often defined quite narrowly and may not be considered by some to cover, for example, the cultural activities undertaken by museums.
priority goals. Rather than sit as the last goal, 'Indigenous Australia' might be moved to the top of the list followed by 'Culture, Heritage and Identity' and then 'Fostering a creative and Imaginative Australia'.	(iii) 'Indigenous Australia' and 'Culture, Heritage and Identity' provide the bedrock of Australia's cultural memory and springboards for the types of new ideas and new forms of cultural expression which underpin a creative and imaginative Australia. There is also a well-documented, pressing need for further research aimed at improving the wellbeing of many in Indigenous communities.
3. Do the descriptions underneath the draft NRP and each priority goals adequately explain their purposes? Please provide specific example of any alternate text and the context to explain your comments or suggestions.
Your response:	Rationale:
(i) Yes, with the following suggested amendments:	(i) See suggested amendments.

(ii) In the sub-heading 'Culture, heritage and identity', (ii) History is a specific academic discipline which 'heritage' should be replaced by 'history'. encompasses 'heritage'. (iii) Consistency is required in the description (iii) As the term 'multicultural' has recognised, accompanying the above priority goal. If 'histories' is Australia is host to many identities and cultures used then 'identity' and 'culture' should also be plural. as well as having many histories. 4. Are there any amendments which should be considered to the existing language of An Environmentally Sustainable Australia NRP and/or its associated priority goals to refresh its relevance to contemporary Australia? Please comment on the proposed amendments provided above, provide specific examples of any new proposed amendments and provide the context to explain your comments and suggestions. Your response: Rationale: (i) Either a further priority goal is required which (i) It has been clear in recent years that reflects the need for research on how best to engage the community understanding and engagement in community in seeking an environmentally sustainable debate and action is a critical aspect of progress Australia or each priority goal should explicitly deal with towards environmental sustainability. the importance of community involvement and understanding and the HASS research which contributes to this vital component. (ii) The description under the priority goal 'Sustainable (ii) The rewritten goal acknowledges that use of Australia's biodiversity' should address the need research by museums and other research for 'Understanding, managing and protecting Australia's institutions is still needed to discover and terrestrial and marine biology ...' understand Australia's biodiversity. Are there any amendments which should be considered to the existing language of the Promoting and Maintaining Good Health NRP and/or its associated priority goals to refresh its relevance to contemporary Australia? Please comment on the proposed amendments provided above, provide specific examples of any new proposed amendments and provide the context to explain your comments and suggestions. Your response: Rationale: No comment No comment 6. Are there any amendments which should be considered to the existing language of the Frontier Technologies for Building and Transforming Australian Industries NRP and/or its associated priority goals to refresh its relevance to contemporary Australia? Please comment on the proposed amendments provided above, provide specific examples of any new proposed amendments and provide the context to explain your comments and suggestions. Your response: Rationale: No comment No comment Are there any amendments which should be considered to the existing language of the Safeguarding Australia NRP and/or its associated priority goals to refresh its relevance to contemporary Australia? Please comment on the proposed amendments provided above, provide specific examples of any new proposed amendments and provide the context to explain your comments and suggestions. Your response: Rationale: (i) The wording under the priority goal 'Protect Australia (i) This goal should acknowledge the need to guard against and anticipate pest invasion rather than deal only with the aftermath.

8. Are there any further amendments or refinements which should be considered to the NRPs and/or their associated priority goals in order to reduce repetition or duplication?
